A TREASURED COAT.

IT WAS SLASHED BY WILKES BOOTH WHILE RUNNING AWAY.

The Coat Was Worn by the Leader of the Orchestra the Night Lincoln Was Assassinated—A New Story About an Historic Tragedy.

William Withers, Jr., is the quiet man who leads the orchestra at the California theater, and when not marshaling his musicians is writing music in his room at the Brooklyn hotel. He is so retiring that few can claim to know him well, although his musical genius has for thirty-five years given him standing among the composers and leaders of the country.

Mr. Withers is fifty-five years old now, yet looks to be not more than forty, and would appear even younger except for an episode that occurred on the evening of April 14, 1865, at Ford's theater in Washington. That evening Withers almost had the unpleasant distinction of being murdered by Wilkes Booth after the latter had fired the fatal shot at President Lincoln and was rushing madly from the stage to an entrance where confederate had a horse in waiting. Mr. Withers' most valued treasure is a dress coat, now in part destroyed by the moth that corrupts all wool, but on the back of the coat can be plainly seen two clean cut slits, made with a sharp edge. One, high up, as though a stroke for the wearer's neck, had missed it by a little and descended upon the garment. The other cut, nearly over the center of the space under which the wearer's right shoulder blade would be, is longer but equally well defined, and made with the same sharp steel.

Wilkes Booth made both these slits, and the wonder is that his victim was not fatally slashed, instead of being only nicked through the upper cut.

The coat was new when Mr. Withers put it on to lead the orchestra on the occasion of Abraham Lincoln's visit to the play, but the coat has never been worn since, so great was the sentimental devotion of the musician to the great man who won for friends all who came to know him.

Every one knows the story of Lincoln's assassination while enjoying in an upper box of Ford's theater, the play "Our American Cousin," but few have learned what occurred just after Booth had fired the cut-throat shot, because William Withers is the only man who can tell the story, and he does not often do it.

"When the fatal shot was fired," he says, "I thought some property man had fired a pistol. Just then I heard a heavy fall on the stage and the people began to yell: 'Hang him! Lynch him! Stop him!' and I saw a man running across the stage toward me. When he got near I saw his eyes were almost starting from his head and there was the most fearful expression on his face I ever saw. 'I recognized Wilkes Booth and at that instant he put down his head and came rushing on, saying: 'Let me pass! let me pass!'

"I was standing where I could not move much, the passage was so narrow. He came on and when he got near struck me with a heavy knife and kept saying, 'Let me pass! I felt the cut and turned a little. Then he struck the knife into me again near the back of my neck and I fell. When I was down he rushed to the stage door, grasped the knob with both hands and dragged the door open. I saw 'Peanut' John standing outside holding a bay horse. Then Booth pulled the door shut.

"Very soon Detective Stewart ran over me and out of the door after Booth. The crowd came upon the stage and grabbed me and wanted to hang me right there, but some who knew me shouted that I was not the man. I was arrested, however, and taken to jail, when Mayor Wallace examined me.

"I thought I was severely cut, but when I took off my clothes I found that the knife had only pierced my clothing and cut the skin a little. The cuts were as clean as though a razor had made them, and I have never understood how I escaped. The knife was found in front of the patent office, where Booth had dropped it as he rode away after the murder.

"I had seen Booth before the show standing near the Tenth street entrance to the theater, and after the performance began saw him again standing against the rear wall of the parquet circle, and then noted that he had gone into the balcony. After President Lincoln came in Booth stole down the balcony until he could look through a hole that had been bored in the box door and locate the president exactly. Then he had opened the door a little, taken careful aim and fired the fatal shot. He burst through the box and jumped fourteen feet to the stage.

"It was such an experience as I never wish to have again. It made me sick for weeks, and I get excited now when I think of it. I taught little 'Ted' Lincoln to play the drum, and was always kindly treated by the president. The whole shooting and escape were done in a few seconds and unexpectedly. Booth had evidently made his plan carefully, and was prepared to resort to any means to avoid arrest. I kept that old coat now, and value it more than anything else I have."—San Francisco Examiner.

MEMORIALIZE CONGRESS.

The Deaver News, which is among the ablest advocates of free coinage, advises all the trans-Mississippi Legislatures with as little delay as possible to memorialize Congress in behalf of the mintage rights of silver. It says the opponents of silver, represented by the eastern banking and gold interests, are now preparing for a desperate struggle, the objective point being the repeal of the present law requiring a monthly purchase by the Government with substituting an equivalent in its place. That would mean demonetization as complete as it is in England, and in the judgment of the most competent authorities it would also be the forerunner of commercial disaster.

The News says the West, through its Legislatures and through private channels, should reinforce the friends of bimetallicism in every practicable way at this crisis. The defenders of the cause of the constitution represent the cause of producers and of wage workers and the wealth of the millions. They should not want for countenance and support.

The financial question has compelled recognition as the paramount issue before the country and the first step towards its solution is the reassertion of the equal rights of silver in the coinage, at the American ratio between the two money metals. The efforts of greedy money changers to multiply their wealth by another stab at silver, at the expense of the debtor and the producing classes, should certainly be the subject of a vigorous protest from the West, both through individual sources and by authoritative State action.

The Nevada Legislature as soon as it convenes should send a memorial to Congress couched in the strongest possible language in favor of recoinetization. The Western States should act unanimously in the matter and present a solid front to the Eastern goldbugs.

THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS.

Next Monday, January 9th, the Presidential electors (chosen last November) will meet at the capitals of their respective States to cast their votes for President of the United States. The three Nevada electors, Messrs. Wren, Buntfield and Powning, will cast their votes for General Weaver, as will also the electors of Colorado, Idaho, Kansas and North Dakota, and one of the four electors of Oregon.

It was claimed by the goldbug press of Nevada during the Presidential campaign that the recoinetization of silver could only be secured through the old parties. The "attempts" of both old parties claimed that they were as much in favor of silver as those who advocated the success of the Silver ticket. They ridiculed the Weaver man and appealed to men's prejudices to stand by Harrison and the Wall Street party. Now that the election is over and reason is again enthroned in the minds of those who voted for the goldbug candidates, not one of those who let prejudice sway their political action but can see that if Weaver was elected the recoinetization of silver would be an assured fact. It on next Monday a majority of the Presidential electors should vote for Weaver, a free coinage bill would be passed and approved before next May. Congress would be convened in extra session immediately after the inauguration of the President to pass upon the silver question, and with an administration favorable to free coinage the result could not be doubted. It would be worth millions to Nevada and hundreds of millions to the farming and industrial interests of the whole country. There would be a revival of business, money would be plenteous and instead of mines being closed down or abandoned and hundreds thrown out of employment there would be a general business revival throughout the country.

THE SILVER BRICK CASE.

Ex-Attorney General Garland is endeavoring to get the "silver brick case" advanced on the Supreme Court calendar. It will be remembered that citizens of Colorado presented a silver brick at the mint and demanded that it be coined into dollars. The Superintendent of the Mint refused, and suit was brought to compel the Secretary of the Treasury to direct the Superintendent of the Mint to coin the bullion. If the case is not decided before Secretary Foster goes out of office it will have to be commenced anew, hence the motion to have it advanced and a decision rendered before the 4th of March.

The Supreme Court of the District of Columbia refused to mandamus the Secretary of the Treasury to have the brick coined or show cause for not doing so, and an appeal was then taken to the Supreme Court of the United States.

BRELLANT'S New Nation is mistaken when it says three out of four People's party voters in the Northern States were former Republicans. Nevada, Colorado and Idaho gave their electoral votes to Weaver, and in each and all of those States fully three-fourths of the Democrats voted for Weaver. In Nevada, only seven hundred Democrats voted for Cleveland.

The Niagara Falls tunnel is completed and it is expected that a current of 45,000 horse power will be transmitted from there to Buffalo, and of 80,000 horse power to other points.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.

A Victim of Faith Cure—San Juan Placer Diggings as Rich as Reported—Cole and Brice Patrick Dead.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Hill's resolution of yesterday as to the Immigration bill passed.

The quarantine bill was then taken up and discussed until, upon motion of Sherman, the Senate went into executive session.

When the doors were reopened consideration of the Quarantine bill was resumed. Chandler of New Hampshire spoke about three hours devoting most of his argument to the bill to suspend immigration, which measure he favored.

Arguments against the Quarantine bill were made by McPherson of New Jersey, Platt of Connecticut, Mills of Texas and Dolph of Oregon. Many amendments were offered, some of which were agreed to and others going over until tomorrow when the bill again comes up as a special order. In the course of his speech Chandler spoke on the consistency of admitting ten dollar immigrants and excluding self-supporting industries men under the labor contract law. Referring to the North German Lloyd Steamship Company, Mr. Chandler said it was the favorite of the Secretary of the Treasury, Assistant Treasurer, Commissioner of Immigration and other Treasury officials when they go abroad and it has always been kind to them. It had always, he said, given them the very best accommodations and if they got short of money while on the other side and Congress had been negligent about providing means for their support over there, it had loaned them money. He invoked the assistance of the North German Lloyd to carry out the provision to not bring 9,200 passengers on one steamship, and he invoked, in all sincerity, the newspaper press of the country to aid him in the great work of benevolence and humanity. After further argument the bill was modified in some particulars and ordered printed.

HOUSE.

The House attendance was so small that nothing but private business was attempted. Finally a quorum was secured and about twenty-five private pension bills were passed and the House adjourned until tomorrow.

As Rich as Reported.

FLAG-TAPP, A. T., Jan. 6.—Reports concerning the San Juan placer mines seem to confirm the first rumors which have been widely distributed. Yesterday S. C. and M. T. Black and an old prospector named McCarthy returned from the diggings and they State the richness of the mines fully equals the claims of those who have preceded them from this point, and that the ground will yield at least 2 cents per pan. McCarthy washed out dirt, three pans of which yielded from 75 cents to $1 altogether. These men are all regarded as reliable and their statements are accepted as conservative and true. A California company has arranged to start a stage line from here to San Juan and it will be running by Monday next.

Severe Storm in Massachusetts.

HIGHLAND LIGHT, Mass., Jan. 6.—The gale that developed here yesterday increased to the worst northeast storm thus far this season. During the night the sea thunders against the cliffs the entire length of the coast. Two bark and a schooner were driven southeast to seaward. The steamer Chatham which passed out for Baltimore at noon is laboring heavily. One steamer, one square rigged vessel and five schooners are storm bound near Provincetown. There is no sign of a change of weather. The train due from Boston at 1 P. M. had not arrived at 6 o'clock, the tracks being badly filled with snow.

San Francisco Races.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—Five furlongs—Jack the Ripper won, Red Rose second, Nipper third. Time, 1:02 1/2. Three quarters of a mile—Alto Mio won, Quarter Staff second, Huguenot third. Time, 1:16. One and a quarter miles—Jennie K first, Atlas second, Santa Fe third. Time, 3:10. Five furlongs—Rosebud won, Princess second, Prince third. Time, 1:01 1/2. Seven furlongs—Nellie G won, Sedalia second, Red Prince third. Time, 1:29.

Riddled With Multitox.

RALPH, N. C., Jan. 6.—On January 1 a negro entered the house of Randall McDonald, who lived with his sisters. In an attempt to rob the place the negro shot the women, killing one outright and mortally wounding the other. The murderer was later identified as Bob Ray. Last night a posse came upon him and riddled him with bullets. Death was instantaneous.

A Victim of Faith Cure.

PACIFIC, A. T., Jan. 6.—O. T. Stevens, one of the oldest settlers in the Territory and a man of considerable wealth, died friendless and alone last Monday night of pneumonia. He was waited on in his sickness by a colored horse trainer who had formerly been employed by him. After the burial inquiry was made as to the medical attendance he had during his illness, when it was learned the old man had fallen a victim to advocates of the faith cure. No medicine had been allowed him until Monday afternoon when a prescription prepared by an inexperienced person was filled for him. Considerable indignation has been aroused and an investigation is being made to discover the identity of the persons who administered the faith treatment. No relatives or claimants to the old man's property have yet turned up.

High Tides Damaging Buildings.

PAN ROCKAWAY, L. I., January 6.—The high tides which accompanied the storm during the past thirty-six hours almost overwhelmed Hog Island. Frank's pavilion and Gibson's bathing house were washed out to sea. Caffrey's pavilion and other buildings were damaged. It is feared if the storm continues all the buildings of the beach will be washed away.

A False Report.

ASHESVILLE, N. C., Jan. 6.—Correspondents sent by a citizen to Bakersville, N. C., Wednesday returned here to-night worn out and disgusted, having traveled nearly one hundred miles with horses and in a continuous snow storm. They say there has been no trouble whatever at Bakersville, nor is there reason to expect any.

A Smallpox Epidemic.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The Surgeon General received a report from the Sanitary Inspector at El Paso, Texas, saying that a typhus fever and smallpox epidemic was at Zacatecas and other points in the interior of Mexico. Precautions are being taken to prevent the disease from being brought across into the United States.

Eighteen Inches of Snow.

BLACKSTONE, Mass., Jan. 6.—Eighteen inches of snow fell on a level in the town of North Bridge, South Bridge, Melville and Blackstone, being the heaviest fall since the Blizzard of 1888. Railway travel on the Connecticut and New England Railroads is delayed.

Jay Gould's Services Appreciated.

BOSTON, Jan. 6.—At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Union Pacific Railway Company a resolution was adopted in memory of Jay Gould, reciting his eminent services to the company and extending heartfelt sympathy to his children.

Sontag and Evans in Mexico.

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 6.—A report comes from the Mexican side of La Juana that Evans and Sontag, the Collier train robbers, have been seen and identified. No arrest was made as no extradition papers are at hand.

A $100,000 Fire.

CONEY ISLAND, N. Y., Jan. 6.—West Brighton Hotel, Vanderveer's Bathing Pavilion, Burkhardt's Hotel and a number of other buildings were totally destroyed by fire to-night. The damage is estimated at $100,000.

Died of Their Wounds.

CATTLETOWN, Ky., Jan. 6.—Constable Deekins, Justice Deekins, Coroner Shepard Cole and Brice Patrick who were shot in the fight near Salyersville, died of their wounds.

Silver Purchase.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The Treasury Department to-day purchased 250,000 ounces of silver at $0.8348. The purchases for the month aggregate 1,118,000 ounces.

Weather Report.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—The forecast for Nevada is fair weather with slight changes in temperature.

Didn't Know Its Value.

A few days ago I met a man from Baltimore who tried to persuade me that some people down that way do not know as much about things pertaining to civilization as the average Indian does, and he told me the story to prove it. Said he: "I'm very fond of horseback riding, and I go off on trips for a week sometimes. On one of these journeys I stopped for a minute at a drug store in a Maryland village and found the ruins of my horse to a colored boy who was standing on the sidewalk. On returning I thanked the lad, handed him what I supposed to be cent and galloped away. Half an hour later I discovered that instead of a cent I had given him a five dollar gold piece. I had not taken much money for my trip, and was quite a way from home, and I couldn't spare my pocket piece just then; at least I didn't want to. I turned back over the road and re-entered the shop. Said I, 'Have you seen anything of the boy that held my horse today about an hour ago?' The druggist laughed. 'I guess,' said he, 'I know what you have come for. It's a five dollar gold piece, isn't it?' 'Yes,' said I, a little surprised. 'Well, the boy came in here and showed it to me, and asked if I would give him a good cent for it. 'Cause he didn't know nuffin 'bout dat kin' o' money.' I saw that there was a mistake and gave him a penny for it. 'You can guess I was pretty glad at the amount of ignorance there was in the world just then. I refunded the cent, pocketed my gold piece and rode off.'—Brooklyn Eagle.

Curiousities About Languages.

Almost a third of the total population of the globe—a round 400,000,000 human beings—speak nothing but the Chinese and allied languages. One hundred million more speak Hindoo only, and 90,000,000 speak English. The Russian language is fourth on the list, being the mother tongue of 89,000,000 people. The German is a good fifth, and is used by 67,000,000 tongues. France coming sixth on the list, which it was once first. Spanish is used by 48,000,000 people in Europe and the three Americas.—St. Louis Republic.

In Jefferson county, Wis., there is a well that widens into a subterranean lake of unknown depth and dimensions.

Chance in Religion. Perhaps it may seem only by forced analogy that the gambler's infatuation can be compared to the superstitious awe of primitive religion, but one needs not to go back a long way in our own history to realize that they can be traced to a common source. In 1610 Thomas Gataker, a Puritan minister, published his essay on "The Nature and Use of Lots," in which, while arguing against it, he states the common belief to be as follows: "Lots may not be used but with great reverence, because the disposition of them cometh immediately from God. The nature of a lot, which is affirmed to be a work of God's special and immediate providence, a sacred oracle, a divine judgment or sentence; the light use it is therefore to be an abuse of God's name, and so a sinne against the third commandment."

How deeply rooted in man's mind the belief in divine interposition in such matters has been from early times is shown by the recourse having been had to lots in the first momentous act performed by the primitive Christian church—namely, the election of an apostle. Human direction was relied on so far as to reduce the number of candidates to two, the qualifications of whom were so evenly balanced that the decision between them was left to pure chance, to control which, as was believed, supernatural interference might be looked for.—Blackwood's Magazine.

What American Painters Earn. Less than twenty years ago a member of the National Academy of Design declared that he knew positively that there were but ten artists in New York who were making as much as $5,000 a year by their art. Times have changed. We hear a good deal about the craze for foreign pictures and the neglect of native painters, but all the same there are not a few of the natives who are making a good living, and by the sale of their pictures too. Several are reputed to make $25,000 a year, and a good many live at a rate of at least $10,000 without falling into debt—belonging to clubs, owning country houses and yachts, paying exorbitant rents for studios and furnishing them with splendor. Some of the best paying commissions that local painters receive are those for panels, ceilings and other decorative work for New York houses.

For Scrofula. "After suffering for about twenty-five years from scrofula on my face and arms, trying various medical courses without benefit, I began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and a wonderful cure was the result. Five bottles sufficed to restore me to health."—Donatista Lopez, 327 E. Commerce st., San Antonio, Texas.

Catarrh. "My daughter was afflicted for nearly a year with catarrh. The physicians being unable to help her, my pastor recommended Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I followed his advice. Three months of regular treatment with Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's Pills completely restored my daughter's health."—Mrs. Louise Bielle, Little Canada, Ware, Mass.

Rheumatism. "For several years, I was troubled with inflammatory rheumatism, being so bad at times as to be entirely helpless. For the last two years, whenever I felt the effects of the disease, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and have not had a spell of it a long time."—E. T. Handbrough, Elk Run, Va.

The coming session of the Legislature should formulate a comprehensive and equitable water law. It is said that until such a law is passed there can be no progress made in reclamation of arid regions of the State as the present laws neither protect the vested rights of any owners of water privileges nor guarantee to subsequent investors any certainty to the use of any water, the right to the use of which they may acquire.

FOSTER'S WEATHER FORECAST.

The Coldest Snap of the Season Predicted for the 15th.

Copyrighted 1938 by W. T. Foster.

St. Joseph, Mo., January 6.

My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from the 7th to the 11th. The next will reach the Pacific Coast about the 12th, cross the Western mountains by the close of the 13th, the Great Central Valleys from the 14th to the 16th and the Eastern States about the 17th. This will be an average winter storm, causing snow in the North and rain in the South.

The cold wave, preceded by snows and rains, will cross the Western mountains about the 15th, the Great Central Valleys about the 16th and the Eastern States about the 17th. This will be one of the most severe cold snaps of the Winter.

Everywhere it is taught that the drift was caused by glacier ice. In our schools this idea is so universally received as correct that teacher nor pupil ever think of questioning its correctness. And yet it is a humbug without the least evidence of truth in it.

If glacier ice had produced the drift with its scratched and polished stones, Siberia, of all the countries on earth, would be noted for its drift deposits. But no drift is found in Siberia. It is the oldest inhabited country on earth, and if we follow the glacier idea, there is where the drifts must have been most extensive.

Siberia is nearer to the pole than New York or Illinois, but the drift is found only in the latter. Where glacier and field ice are now most abundantly found there is found no drift.

Louis Figner, an authority in the orthodox science world, says: "Two cataclysms surprised Europe at the moment of the development of an important era." "Every authority in geological evidence makes the same assertion, not only as to Europe but in reference to many other parts of the earth."

When I was producing legendary evidences and quoting from Job and Genesis to prove this statement many hesitated and some thought I was going too far when I asserted that animal life had been almost entirely swept from the earth by some great catastrophe. Some objected to the scriptural evidences, many refused to accept the strong legendary evidences and now I want to ask those wise-ones what they will do with the vast volume of indisputable geological evidence on the same subject.

Positive evidences lie in the earth going to prove every statement I have offered as to a great catastrophe, or numerous great catastrophes, to animal life that cannot be accounted for in any other way than that great comets have repeatedly struck our earth, and strong circumstantial evidences point to our moon as nucleus of one of these great comets.

Figner further says of these great catastrophes: "The whole scope of animated nature, the evolution of animals, was suddenly arrested in that part of our hemisphere over which these gigantic convulsions spread, followed by the brief but sudden submersion of the entire continent. Organic life had scarcely recovered from the first violent shock when a second and perhaps more severe blow assailed it. The northern and central parts of Europe, the vast countries which extend from Scandinavia to the Mediterranean and the Danube, were visited by a period of sudden and severe cold; the temperature of the polar regions cooled them. The plains of Europe, then ornamented with a luxuriant vegetation, developed by the heat of a burning climate, the boundless pastures on which the herds of great elephants, the active horse, the robust hippopotamus and great carnivorous animals grazed and roamed, became covered with a mantle of ice and snow."

Mr. Ch. Martins, another great scientific authority, says: "The most violent convulsions of the solid and liquid elements appear to have been themselves only the efforts due to a quiver much more powerful than the mere expansion of the earth and it is necessary to recur, in order to explain them, to some new and bolder hypothesis than has yet been hazarded. Some philosophers have believed in an astronomical revolution which may have overtaken our globe and modified its position in relation to the sun. They admit that the poles have not always been as they now are, and that some terrible shock misplaced them, changing at the same time the inclination of the axis of the earth."

The above is printed evidence that the great cataclysm was caused by a great force that came from without and not from within the earth. What else could it have been but a comet?

Figner further says: "We cannot doubt, after such testimony, of the existence in the frozen north of the almost entire remains of the mammoth. The animals seem to have perished suddenly, enveloped in the ice at the moment of their death and their bodies have been preserved from decomposition by the continual action of the cold."

Cuvier, another great authority, discussing the same subject, says: "It they had not been frozen as soon as killed pyritization would have decomposed them, and on the other hand, this eternal frost could not have previously prevailed in the place where they died, for they could not have lived in such a temperature. It was therefore, at the same instant when these animals perished that the country they inhabited was rendered glacial. These events must have been sudden, instantaneous and without any gradation."

Those who have been trying to ridicule the position I have taken on these questions may now try their efforts on the great scientists.

"Y's" Meeting.

The regular meeting of Y. W. O. T. U. will be held Saturday, January 7th, at 2:30 o'clock, at the Congregational Church, corner Fifth and Virginia streets. A full attendance is requested as business of importance will come before the meeting.

SAN FRANCISCO MEAT MARKET.

The Ruling Prices at Present.

The Butchers' Gazette has the following relative to the San Francisco meat market:

28th.

Immediately after the Christmas rush for No. 1 beef, the market slightly weakened; owing to retailers being heavily stocked the demand fell off considerably and on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the market was in the hands of the buyers, who were few and far between. On Thursday supplies were pretty well exhausted and beef stiffened. The top price for No. 1 steers is 6 cents, although something extra fine will bring 6 1/2 cents. Retailers are running mostly on No. 2 beef. The market is not overrun with poor cattle and there is a scarcity of this grade. We do not expect any great change in the beef market for a few weeks; prices may fluctuate 1/2 cent one way or another, but stockmen can safely base their calculations on our figures for the next thirty days.

CALVES.

The market is steady and the demand about equal to the supply. Sales are based on our prices.

MUTTON.

The market shows signs of stiffening. Prices so far have not advanced, but from information received we understand that the bulk of the mutton sheep, are held in a few hands and a combine is about to be entered into within the next ten days, whereby it will be agreed to advance simultaneously the price of mutton. It is therefore probable that before our next issue we may see an advance of 1/2 to 1c. We have so far not heard of any lamb being on the market outside of a few Spring, which can hardly be classed under that heading.

NEVADA CATTLE.

What a Prominent Stockman Has to Say About Them.

Fred Stauffer, the well-known Nevada cattleman is spending the holidays with his family in this city.

Mr. Stauffer has cattle on a thousand hills in Oregon, Nevada and Idaho. He says that so far this Winter stock has fared well, the season being open and feed plentiful.

"Three years ago," said Mr. Stauffer, "we had a Winter that came near bankrupting all the cattlemen in Nevada. We lost over 6,000 head of cattle and 600 horses. We are stocked up again and furnishing better beef to California markets than ever before."

Originally the sagebrush cattleman had nothing but scrub stock. That meant beefs weighing from 300 to 350 pounds, and very scarce. Now the importation of thoroughbred bulls has worked quite a change. Bulls weigh at least 200 pounds more on an average, meat is sweet and juicy, and the stock is much harder. We seldom lose a half thoroughbred, where, in former years, the scrub cattle used to die down and die by the hundred."—Sacramento News.

Last Night's Play.

The Opera House last evening was crowded with young and old to witness the play of the hill-patrons, in which Mrs. Tom Thumb, now the Countess Magri, her husband Count Magri, who is a genuine noble of the sunny clime of Italy, and Baron Littlefinger appeared.

All attending were agreeably disappointed in the entertainment given, as it was the general impression that the performance would simply consist of an exhibition of the disunitive people. The play was divided into three parts, the first consisting of the introduction of Mrs. General Tom Thumb by her husband, female impersonation by Count Magri, and a laughable comedy sketch by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mozart. The hill-patrons appeared in the second in a new musical comedy extravaganza, entitled: "The Countess, or Two Strings to Her Bow." The setting of each was good, and the audience showed its appreciation by repeated applause. The third act was as interesting as the two first and the play in its entirety was entertaining to both old and young, and when the curtain was rung down at the close a well pleased audience left the Opera House.

The company go to Virginia City this morning and after performing there and in Osprey will return here and give a matinee Wednesday afternoon, further notice of which will appear hereafter.

An Important Case.

Last Monday in Justice Linu's Court a jury tried the case of Thos. R. Hayden against H. Judd and A. Taylor, charged with petit larceny for having taken a lot of drift wood off the river bank on his land. The jury found Defendant Judd not guilty and the charge against Taylor was dismissed. Civil suit for damages was then brought against Judd, and it was tried yesterday before Justice Linu, who reserved his decision. The case is of interest as it will determine whether drift wood can be taken out of the river on either people's land. Judge Hayden appeared for the plaintiff and Judge Carter for the defendant.

Skating and Dancing.

There will be skating and dancing at the rink Saturday night. The previous soirees have been so successfully conducted that the mere mention of the fact is sufficient to guarantee a large attendance. Skating will begin at 7:30 and continue until 10, and dancing will begin at 9 o'clock. The best music will be furnished.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

MULDER FREE.

The Willy Swindler Escapes the Clutches of the Law by a Technicality.

After spending a good many hundred dollars in bringing Prof. Mulder, Carson's famous instructor of languages, back from way down in Texas where he had gone to try the waters of Galveston bay as a panacea for his inability to pay his debts, settling for his car fare at Pullman sleeper rates, also that of Sheriff Bonstead who accompanied him from the alligator shores of the Gulf of Mexico to Carson, while that town was waiting with its metaphorical bands outstretched expectantly, hoping to nab the derelict professor and put him where he could not leave for a while, at least, as a punishment for his many sins—after all this—Prof. Mulder yesterday was declared a free man and the indictment against him quashed.

It is probable that then there was hurrying to and fro and a good deal of wringing of hands and anathematizing both loud and deep among even the most staid people of Carson. They had counted on about 20 years of State Prison life to sober the otherwise irrepressible professor, and now the hope has been rudely shattered.

It seems that in the District Court of Ormsby county, Wm. Woodburn, attorney for E. H. S. Mulder, demurred to the indictment, and produced authorities and made an argument to sustain his position. District Attorney McGowan confessed that in his opinion the indictments were defective and so the Court had no recourse but to sustain Mr. Woodburn and ordered the prisoner discharged.

$25,000 DAMAGES.

A Suit Brought to Recover that Amount Against the S. P. R. R. Co.

Notice of the commencement of a suit for the recovery of $25,000 damages against the Southern Pacific Company, was yesterday served on J. L. Wines, the agent of the company for Nevada, by Clarke & Jones acting as attorneys for Mrs. Horace M. Johnson. The suit is brought to recover damages alleged to have been sustained by the plaintiff in the death of her husband, Horace M. Johnson, who was fatally injured on the 14th day of August of last year by falling from his engine in Humboldt county, which caused his death six days later. The complaint on file alleges that the death of the engineer was due to a defect in the engine which was running for the Southern Pacific Company, and which defect was known to the said company. The suit will be tried in the U. S. Circuit Court, Clarke & Jones representing the plaintiff and Baker, Wines & Dorsey the defendant.

Cause to Complain.

A compositor on the Appeal staff wishes the practice denounced of ladies holding their skirts too high when crossing a muddy street.

He says that there is a modest limit to the raising of the dress and that the edge of the skirt a few inches above the mud is enough. The reason of his feeling in the matter is that yesterday while watching a lady cross the street, who showed an exceptionally pretty ankle—and even more—he ran his face against a tree in front of the Capitol square and was nearly knocked senseless. The poor fellow certainly has just cause for indignation.—Appeal.

Why Throw Away Money?

What method is there in throwing away money in purchasing clothing, boots, shoes, underwear, shirts, tobacco, cigars, blankets, and in fact numbers of other necessities, when by purchasing them at Rasek's auction rooms, two doors north of Coffin & Larocomb's store, you can save from 50 to 75 per cent on every purchase. There are no shoddy auction goods offered, but as fine a stock of gentlemen's wear as can be found anywhere in the State. The prices received at night govern the prices for the succeeding day. Call around and secure bargains.

I. O. O. F. Installation.

At a special meeting of Reno Lodge, No. 19, I. O. O. F., held last evening, D. D. G. M. Al. White installed the following officers for the ensuing term: H. B. Hale, N. G.; B. F. Cudler, V. G.; G. O. Deserves Attention.

If you have money to invest in Reno real estate, either in large or small amounts, the Reno Real Estate and Investment Company offers most particular inducements to you. By investing in its shares of stock you participate in its investments which are governed by its able and experienced Board of Trustees, consisting of Mr. C. T. Bender, Mr. Sol Levy, Mr. C. C. Powning, Mr. Geo. F. Turritian and Mr. A. G. Fletcher. The principle object of the company is to purchase and improve centrally located business property in the city of Reno. Everyone is of one mind as to the desirability of such investments.

The company is incorporated with a capital of $100,000, divided into 20,000 shares of the par value of five dollars each, and from its already large list of share holders there is every reason to believe that it is destined to become one of the most flourishing companies in the State. Of its 20,000 shares there have been 12,000 sold since August 1st.

Its shares are sold upon the monthly installment plan of ten cents per share, installments to range over a period of fifty months. In this way persons of moderate means are enabled to combine and participate in investments that usually only fall to the lot of the fortunate capitalist. Mr. F. M. Lee, the Secretary of the company, will be pleased to furnish any desired information.
